PROFILE

I'm a Computer Science student at Grand Canyon University who loves finding simple ways to solve complex problems. Technology excites me because it's not just about coding it's about creating tools that make life easier and more meaningful. I'm curious, adaptable, and open to exploring every corner of Computer Science, from building software to analyzing data. My goal is to keep growing, learning, and contributing to projects that truly make a difference.

PROJECTS

Completed Projects

Personal Website (aime-moria.com)

- Designed and built my own professional website from scratch.
- Custom portfolio site to showcase my skills, resume, and contact info.
- Integrated contact form for direct communication.
- Responsive design for mobile and desktop.

Eliot Downloader (GitHub)

- A privacy-first, lightning-fast downloader supporting most sites.
- Download videos, audio, and photos from different platforms
- Extract audio (MP3) and save high-resolution images.
- Allow user create/log-in and manage their account.
- Allows the admin to manage the app, monitor statistics and traffic, and receive and respond to inquiries through the built-in Contact Us messenger.
- Real-time progress display with speed and ETA indicators.

In Progress

Clocking Machine (GitHub)

- Employee time tracking system.
- Clock-in/clock-out features with admin management.
- Data stored securely for reporting and analysis.

Kitchen Assistant App

- A smart cooking companion that guides users step by step. Inspiration came after helping my younger brother grow Cooking With William to 1.4M TikTok, 1.7M Instagram, and 1.19M YouTube followers (@cookingwith.william).
- Guides users step-by-step through recipes.
- Built-in cooking timer that alerts when to add next ingredients.
- Save and organize favorite recipes.
- Shopping cart for kitchen tools and accessories.
- Designed to help both beginners and experienced cooks.
